Ike Doctrine Faces Crucial Senate Vote

Proposal Is Made To Cut Provision Of Financial Aid

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine faced a crucial Senate vote today on a proposal to strip the resolution of its $200 million aid provisions.

The proposal to knock out the aid provision received powerful bipartisan support from a number of southern Democrats and economy-minded Republicans.

Administration forces predicted the proposal would be beaten down but that the vote would be close.

The proposed amendment introduced by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) would cut down the doctrine resolution to a simple declaration that the United States is prepared to use armed forces if necessary to thwart overt Communist aggression in the Middle East.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) called an unusual Saturday morning session as part of his plan for whipping the entire resolution through Senate by next Tuesday.

The Senate just about concluded debate on the Russell proposal Friday.

Russell's proposal would eliminate administration authority to spend as it sees fit $200 million previously appropriated.

The administration has waged an all-out battle against the amendment, contending it would cripple the doctrine.

Good Evening!

Nature's brush rarely more artistic.

Veneer of ice and snow over the countryside beauty to behold and, you know, you don't see that very often in the lowlands.

March something like a lion yesterday. Relax. Lambies will be frolicking all over the place before you know it.

Israel decision to withdraw from the Gaza strip and the Gulf of Aqaba a momentous one.

And if the United Nations quits fumbling and makes sure that little nation gets what is coming to her, the decision may be the key to solution of many Mideast problems.

It was the United States pledge that brought the pledge, rather than the U. N. Now, it's up to Uncle Sam to stand by and keep Egypt and Nasser in check.

It begins to appear from testimony before that investigating Senate Committee, that the Teamsters Union tried to virtually annex the state of Oregon.

You wonder sometimes, how that sort of thing could happen in the United States of America.

We're not wondering about Mayo Smith and the Phillies, however, starting their spring training in earnest at Clearwater yesterday.

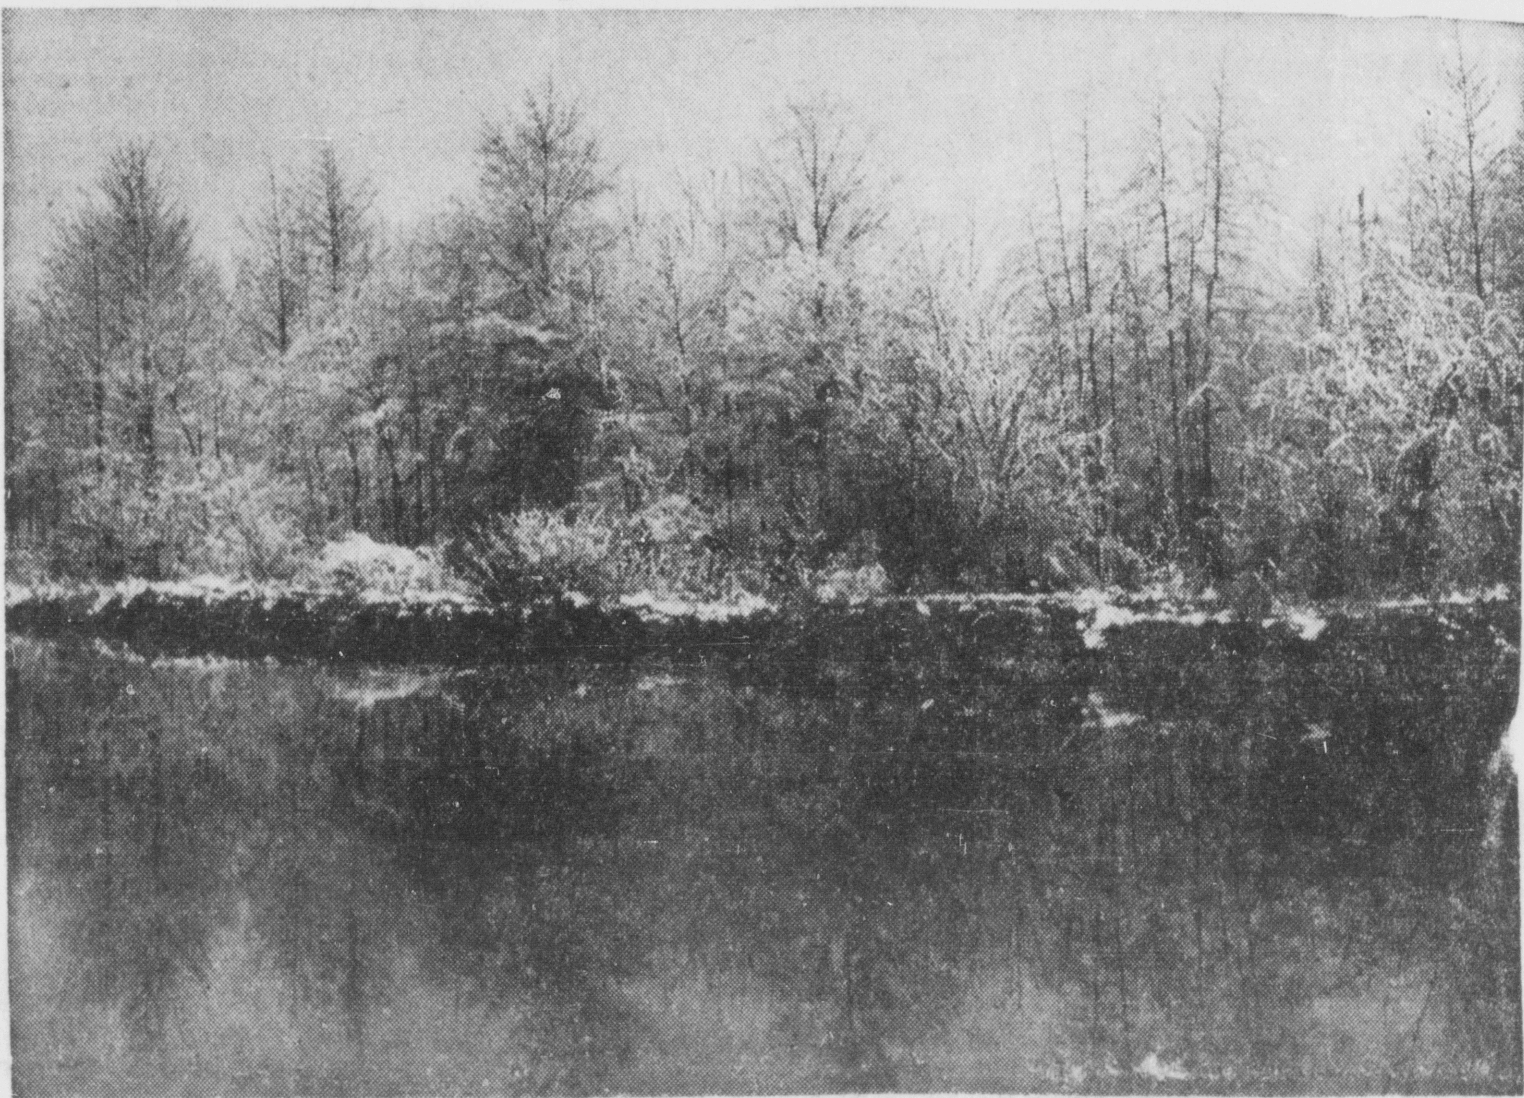

All we want 'em to do is to look as good after the season opens as they'll look going through their warm-up exercises.

Folders soon will be out to show you where you can't afford to go for vacation come summer.

If you're driving during the weekend, be careful.

Go to church tomorrow.

Poetic Beauty From Nature's Brush

Bucks county took on a special dress for the coming of March. Nature coated her realm with crystal-like beauty. Here, a quiet stream reflects the wonders of Nature at her best. Light snow, still waters, and crystal trees — this is our Lower Bucks county, dazzling under gray March skies. (See other photo, Page 3)

Las Vegas Dimmed By Northern Lights

By UNITED PRESS

Gamblers slogged through four inches of snow under the all-night lights of Las Vegas early today, and if they took the time to look, they saw nature's own show of night lights in the sky.

The gambling casino patrons—usually impervious to everything but the roulette tables and one-armed bandits—were in the center of the nation's heaviest snowfall last night.

Las Vegas also was one among numerous points which reported an unusual display of the Northern Lights. Garden City, Kan., and the Nevada gambling city were the two southernmost spots to sight the Aurora Borealis.

There was snow elsewhere in the nation as winter hung on in New England, covering the area with as much as an inch in many northeastern stations.

A freight train loaded with potatoes hit a school bus in a blinding snowstorm at Bancroft, Me., yesterday, killing the bus driver and a school girl.

Further down the Atlantic Coast skies were clear after two days of heavy rain, but there was light

Post Backs Price Hike

John Billington Post 6495, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Levittown, this week voted its unanimous support to the recent $4 membership fee increase in the Levittown Public Recreation association.

The Levittown veterans acted on the recommendation of Larry Gould, post representative at the L.P.R.A. meeting, who said the recently-enacted $10 fee is essential for operating and maintenance purposes.

Form Committee

The post members recommended that when Levitt and Sons, incorporated, leaves Levittown and turns over the administration building to the association a special committee should be formed. This committee would work with the L.P.R.A. in future policies, to provide full community spirit with assured cooperation. It would be made up of various Levittown organizations.

The veterans commended the L.P.R.A. and its personnel for outstanding service.

Post members Walter Tannock and Richard Fisher were named chairman of a committee to sponsor a boy and racer in the Lower Bucks county Soap Box derby.

Movies of past soap box derbies will be shown at the post home, Haines road, on Monday. The films will explain how to make a racer, and the procedure of the derby. All boys and their fathers are invited to attend, spokesmen said.

Racket Group Plans Charge

By HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP)—A spokesman said today the Senate Rackets Committee plans to confront Teamster Union officials with charges they tried to take over law enforcement in Oregon.

The spokesman said they would be asked to confirm or deny the charges made in testimony before the committee.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy told newsmen the union leaders would also be asked whether they were willing to contribute $10,000 to the campaign of Democratic Gov. Robert Holmes if their man were appointed to the state Liquor Commission. Kennedy said the questions would be put to Union President Dave Beck and Vice President Frank W. Brewster, head of the

Guided Missile Out of Control

WASHINGTON (UP)—An unidentified guided missile fired from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., yesterday went out of control and possibly exploded in a great red flash over the Playland State's sandy shore.

A Pentagon spokesman disclosed shortly before midnight that the accident had happened at the missile test center. He refused to release details beyond saying that no one was injured.

Wintry Ice Causes Crash

Old Man Winter brushed several mischievous ice spots on the highway of Lower Bucks county and caught a few motorists by surprise.

Several minor auto accidents were caused by cars skidding on the slippery roads, police said, and in a crash in Fallsington a passenger and her daughter had to have a hospital check-up. By-and-large, motorists stayed off the roads last night, police reported.

The ice caused a car with three riders to hit a tractor-trailer at the U. S. 1 bridge across the railroad at Fallsington, Falls township police said, at 9 o'clock last night. Both cars were going east on U. S. 1.

The car was driven by Lorraine Simchak, 19, of 13 Schenck street, Trenton, N. J. The tractor-trailer was driven by John Moran, 35, Norristown.

Police took Mrs. Isabel Elbertson, 47, Aaron avenue, Trenton, to Mercer hospital, Trenton, with a possible fractured hip.

A hospital check indicated there was no fracture and she was released. Mrs. Elbertson's daughter, Margaret, 12, also believed injured, was found to be all right, a hospital spokesman said. Also riding in the car was Mrs. Elbertson's son, Harry, 10.

'Lights' Seen In Bucks

The skies over Lower Bucks county were illuminated early this morning by lights that radiated like the inside of an umbrella.

The sky phenomena, apparently the Northern Lights, occurred in cloudy weather. Mrs. William E. Kinsky, 282 Goldenridge drive, called the Courier and times to report the sight.

FBI Assists Eight Die In Kidnap Hunt Plane Crash

BELLMAR, N. J. (UP) —

Twelve FBI experts on kidnap cases "assisted" police today in checking and re-checking facts in an effort to obtain some clue to the whereabouts of little Mary Jane Barker, missing from her home here since Monday.

Both the family and police denied published reports an unidentified person telephoned on intermediary in the case, demanding a safe return of the pretty, four-year-old girl.

The FBI sleuths, drawn from all parts of the nation, moved into the case with full equipment Friday and decided on a fresh start. Known facts will be rechecked and persons already questioned will be interrogated again.

Operating from an undisclosed headquarters, the FBI team resumed questioning of known sex offenders in South Jersey, men who already have been quizzed.

Falls Budget On Public Display

Falls township's tentative $426, 822 budget for 1957 is now on display in the municipal building, Fallsington, the supervisors announced. It may be examined by the police Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The township supervisors will give the final vote to the budget at a special meeting March 25.

The pastor will be honored for his leadership in establishing the church in 1939, building the congregation and erection of the church and Sunday School building on Green lane, at a cost of $185,000. The mortgage burning will remove all indebtedness.

Ministry Enlarged

During his 18 years in Bristol, Mr. Strauss' ministry has been greatly enlarged so that during a year in addition to his congregation, he ministers to many thousands of people in many different areas and states. He has

Eight Die In Plane Crash

OTTAWA (UP)—Canadian Air Vice Marshal Robert C. Ripley and seven Canadian airmen were killed last night when a two-engine B25 crashed and burned on a country road 13 miles south of Ottawa.

The plane, flying from North Bay, Ont., to Ottawa, was believed to have exploded in flight before plunging to earth close by a heavily-travelled highway.

There were no survivors.

Second in Two

The converted bomber was coming in for a landing at Ottawa's Uplands Station when it crashed. It was the second Royal Canadian Air Force Mitchell transport to crash in two weeks. The first crash-landed Feb. 16 at Winnipeg after running out of gas. No one was killed, however.

Brilliant Flash

Residents in the vicinity of last night's crash told air force investigators they were startled by a brilliant flash that lighted up the sky, followed by a thunderous explosion, then an earth-shaking thud.

First Phase Meeting Set For Generals

By WALTER LOGAN

United Press Staff Correspondent

Israel announced today its military leaders would meet tomorrow with United Nations officials to plan the Israeli withdrawal from Egyptian territory along the Gulf of Aqaba.

There were indications the withdrawal from the Gaza Strip would be delayed until the United Nations makes good on Israeli "assumptions" the area will be administered by U.N. forces during a transitional period.

Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, chief of staff of the Israeli armed forces, announced he was meeting Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, head of the U.N. Emergency Forces (UNEF) at Lydd Airport in Israel tomorrow to arrange the Aqaba withdrawal.

Informed sources in Tel Aviv said the two generals would discuss only the "preliminary arrangements" for the pullback from Sharm El Sheikh, the Egyptian fortress dominating the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

Follows Withdrawal Promise

Israeli sources said this was the "first phase" of the withdrawal announced yesterday in New York by Mrs. Golda Meir, the Israeli foreign minister, and that withdrawal from the Gaza Strip will come later.

Mrs. Meir, in announcing Israel's intentions, mentioned two "assumptions":

1. Freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba will be continued, backed by U.S. declarations that the gulf is international waters.

2. The UNEF, not Egypt, will be the agency to set up civil services in Gaza and remain in control until the issue is settled.

Observers in Jerusalem believed Burns and Dayan would fix a date for a further meeting to discuss the Gaza Strip and plans for a U.N. takeover there. Burns has asked Israel not act until he has talked with Dayan.

The situation as pleasing to neither Jew nor Arab, Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel faced a political rebellion, and an Egyptian spokesman said the Arabs would believe the Israeli withdrawal when they see it.

Israel Politics Affected

Several Israeli political parties called demonstrations for today in the principal cities of Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, and Haifa against the settlement. Two of Ben-Gurion's coalition cabinet parties were in revolt and may cause a political crisis this week end.

The Arabs indicated they were suspicious of the Israeli withdrawals despite a promise to nine Arab leaders in Washington by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denying reports of any "deal" and saying there were "no conditions" to the Israeli withdrawal.

The independent Cairo newspaper Al Ahran said today the withdrawal must be "unconditional" and that Egypt will not be bound by any promises given to Israel by the United States. It said Egypt will "win her full rights if it takes her a thousand years and means the shedding of the last drop of blood."

Ferris Gets Parole For Poor Health

Former Coroner Served 5 Months In Bucks Prison

Russell J. T. Ferris, former county coroner who lives in Ottsville, was paroled from Bucks County Prison for medical reasons yesterday, after serving five months of a six to 23-month sentence for defrauding the county of funds while he was in office.

Ferris, defeated in a bid for reelection in November, 1955, was paroled by three judges of Montgomery county court yesterday afternoon when the judges were told his health was being impaired by imprisonment.

Ferris has had most of his stomach removed in operations, and his attorney, William M. Power, Doylestown, said prolonged imprisonment has aggravated the former coroner's condition.

Sufficient Reason

The parole was granted by President Judge Harold G. Knight and Judges E. Arnold Forrest and George C. Corson after Judge Knight commented no other testimony was needed because of impairment of health.

Ferris' attorneys added the former "is extremely sorry for what he did . . . and has learned his lesson."

Ferris has the remainder of his 23-month sentence to pay costs of prosecution which amount to more than $5,000. He has already paid a $300 fine.

He was met at the courthouse by his wife and returned with her to his home in Ottsville. Ferris won a trial in Montgomery county after his attorneys claimed publicity here was prejudicial to a fair trial.

He was accused of defrauding the county of $2,420 in expenses and fees for autopsies which were never performed.

Ferris was denied a parole bid in January after Montgomery county court ruled he wasn't properly "contrite."

Deputy Paroled

Ferris' deputy, Dr. William L. Goldfarb, Bristol, was paroled last month after serving two months of a three to 23-month sentence for charging the county for an autopsy which was never performed.

Judge Knight commented on Ferris yesterday, "I feel it is our duty to grant this parole in view of the aggravated physical condition of the former coroner."

The judges were told his condition has grown worse daily, that he lost seven pounds, and he suffers frequent spells of nausea.

Humiliation

Ferris said his family has been humiliated as a result of his case and he will have to move to another area. He also said his tavern in Ottsville is operating at a loss.

Ferris resigned as county Republican chairman on Oct. 5, 1955, and he was sentenced the following October. His arrest followed exposures made by the Bucks County Democratic organization during the political campaign before the November, 1955, election.

Planner Study Sees 3 Townships Joining

Consolidation of Bristol, Middletown and Falls townships was seen as a logical development by Carl W. Wild, planning consultant, in his planning report for Bristol Township.

Wild stated that Bristol, Falls and the lower part of Middletown consist of a natural geographic region and form a single large unit.

Logical Approach

"As such," he stated in his report, "consolidation or at least expanded joint action would be a logical approach in solving common problems with this natural geographic region."

With outlining the report before a group of Bristol Township officials Wednesday night, Wild suggested the three townships could at least hire a joint planning consultant on a full time basis. He said one township probably wouldn't want to hire a full time planner on its own but could do it on a joint basis.

Many of the problems, such as sewage, water, flood control and roads could best be handled on a regional basis.

Police Network

As an example of joint co-operation he mentioned Bristol township police radio network. Eleven municipalities are tied into the network, including Bristol, Middletown, Bensalem and Lower Southampton township. Falls township is connected with the Trenton police radio.

Several members of Bristol township's Board of commissioners have advocated working on a regional basis to solve joint problems.

At one time a steering committee was set up with representatives of each of the townships. However, the proposal was dropped when Falls township objected. Several political leaders at that time objected on the grounds that it was a step towards incorporation.

False Phone Calls Warning Is Given

Lenox B. Markley, president of the Bristol Terrace Civic association, today warned that an unidentified woman has been telephoning residents and misrepresenting herself as a member of the group.

He said he has had numerous complaints that the woman has been calling members and asking personal questions. "This woman has not been authorized by me or any member of the governing body to make any calls pertaining to the association," Markley said.

Referred To Attorney

He added that the matter has been referred to the attorney of the group and that if the woman is caught she will be prosecuted.

At the same time Markley said that the attorney, Walter W. Jackson, has been instructed to arrange a meeting with the attorney of the Public Housing Administration, which owns the homes.

The purpose of the meeting will be to learn at what price the government will sell the homes.

New Tenants Deadline

Also, he stated, the association wants the PHA to set a deadline for accepting new tenants prior to the sale.

This is necessary, he said to make sure there will be enough homes to take care of families now living in double units.

He added that the first homes are scheduled to go on sale about the first of April.

He said that the association now consists of over two-thirds of the residents of Bristol Terrace I. This represents nearly all of the residents who have indicated they will buy homes.

He explained that non-members who do buy will not be covered by the free legal services or other benefits of the association.

Board Clears Drill Sgt.

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (UP)—A court-martial board cleared a Marine drill sergeant Friday of charges that he forced a recruit to stuff himself with candy until he choked.

The same board that found Sgt. Daniel J. Corey, 28, of Somerville, Mass., innocent of four mistreatment counts also reduced the sentence of another drill instructor convicted of hitting a recruit at this Marine training camp.

Former Sgt. Charles L. Jones of Pensacola, Fla., earlier was sentenced to 30 days in the brig, ordered to pay a $50 fine and reduced to private first class for striking Pvt. George D. Toper, 20, of Watertown, N.Y.

Reduced Sentence

However, the summary court martial board reduced Jones' sentence to a fine of $20, downgraded his rank to corporal and threw out his imprisonment.

Corey appeared before the board during a four-hour hearing to answer charges that he forced Pvt. John J. Barone, 18, of Chester, Pa., to stuff himself with candy, threw down another recruit, Pvt. Thomas Hayes, 19, of Lawrence, Mass., with his legs and that he witnessed Jones strike Toper.

However, Barone testified that Corey only told him to eat the candy and did not order him. The recruit said he ate several pieces of candy, choked and then quit.

Would Have Collection At Fixed Salary

Bensalem Supervisor Joseph Murdock today announced another in a list of proposals for good government in Bensalem township.

Mr. Murdock said, "I will add one more proposal to the present list for better government in our township. I shall make a motion at the next supervisors' meeting (Monday, 10 a.m.) to have the township solicitor draw up an ordinance whereby the tax collector will be compelled to collect taxes at a fixed salary."

"That salary to be set at the discretion of the board of supervisors and the hours arranged so the tax collector's office will be open at least one night a week for the convenience of the public," Mr. Murdock said.

"Any delay in adopting this proposal will prevent any action being taken again before the next term of the office of tax collector expires, four years from now," the supervisor said.

Competition

In making his proposal Mr. Murdock said, "It's my sincere belief that the more offered for better government, the greater the competition will come between the politicians of both political parties to give better government to the people of Bensalem township."

"It seems this trend (to better government) has been adopted in our township but in the entire lower end of Bucks county," the supervisor said.

Murdock's other proposals, made at a Feb. 1 meeting, include hiring a township manager, a banking firm as treasurer, forming a citizens council, having 50 supervisor meeting a year, and creating a superintendent of roads post outside of the board of supervisors.

Forecast

At that time, Democrat Murdock, keyed with emotion, said, "These proposals may mean political suicide for me, but we need better government in this township, and these are the things I see that will help bring good government to us."

Three days later at a regular supervisors' meeting, Democrat Chairman of the Board Raymond Wink and Republican Supervisor Raymond Brenner teamed up and ousted him as secretary-treasurer for "incompetence in office," following an open discussion of the proposals.

His one-time secretary Mrs. Alma Fettes, was named temporary secretary-treasurer of the board following Murdock's dismissal.

He remains on the board of supervisors.

A meeting to hear further discussion on the proposals, originally scheduled for March 4, was postponed by Chairman Wink until "second class township code experts can be present at the meeting and answer any questions on the proposals and the code in general."

A second hearing date has not been set, but Chairman Wink said it will be later this month.
